Marines Hit Viet Reds in Island Action

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines made an amphibious landing on an island near their Chu Lai beachhead today and fought their way into a Vietnamese coastal headquarters that had been overrun by the Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The battle for An Hoa island, on which the headquarters is located, ended in a complete collapse of the Viet Cong assault forces, he said.

The Marines were reported to have encircled the enemy, who had been victorious only a few hours before. Four Viet Cong were killed by the Marines and 51 were captured, the spokesman said.

The Marines lost 3 killed and 14 wounded as they stormed into the shattered headquarters. They found the bodies of 16 Vietnamese navy men of the coastal junk force along with the bodies of two of the three American naval advisers assigned to the headquarters.

This was the first time American troops had been used as a reaction force against a Viet Cong attack.

A U.S. Navy destroyer rushed to An Hoa island, 345 miles northeast of Saigon, to cut off the Reds if they tried to escape by sea.

The spokesman said the headquarters was overrun at 5 a.m. by a surprise attack but that some of the government force escaped in their junks. He said the Viet Cong force was less than a battalion in size.

The Leathernecks called out for the first time to rescue a government force under attack, launched an amphibious assault in tracked landing vehicles which they brought with them when they landed in Viet Nam three months ago.

They reportedly sliced across a corner of the island's southeast peninsula, cutting off the red attackers.

The spokesman refused to say how many Marines were rushed to An Hoa.

The spokesman also reported that four U.S. Army advisers were missing following the ambush of a Vietnamese army battalion 37 miles northwest of Saigon Thursday.

Other sources said nearly two thirds of the 365-man government force were casualties — 151 killed, 25 wounded and 59 missing.

The ambush was in the classic Viet Cong pattern. The Communists attacked the Xon Dua outpost, in Binh Duong Province, then smashed the force sent to relieve it.

The U.S. spokesman said American, Australian and Vietnamese troops had killed about 150 Viet Cong and captured 7 others in their big sweep in the Communist-controlled "D" zone 25 to 35 miles northeast of Saigon. He refused to give government casualties until the force was withdrawn but unofficial sources said there were about 40 American casualties.

The U.S. spokesman said the operation ended today after only light contact with the Communists Thursday and the combined force was withdrawing to its base at Bien Hoa.

Stormy Weather Hits Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More rain fell in sections of the Midwest and Southeast today after another outbreak of stormy weather in many areas.

In the Midwest, tornadoes, heavy rain and strong winds hit areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. Heavy rain doused sections of Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

In Savannah, Ga., three children were electrocuted during a heavy rainstorm when one of them tried to open a gate on a wire fence electrified by a broken 4,000-volt power line. The other two children apparently were killed as they ran into their stricken playmate.

The crash was about 170 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Retired Marine Itches for Fight

SALUDA, Va. (AP) — At 67, retired Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller wants to fight again. He is critical of American military efforts in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and has requested a combat command.

"I am tired and ashamed to look the tax payers of the United States in the face," he said in a letter to the commandant of the Marine Corps May 14, which he made public for the first time today. He stressed his experience in guerrilla warfare in Haiti and Nicaragua in the 1920s and 1930s, and his combat record in the Pacific in World War II and Korea.

(In Washington, Marine Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene said Puller's request for reactivation had been denied.)

Craggy and blunt as ever, and appearing physically and mentally fit, Puller answered these questions at his Tidewater home here in an interview with The Associated Press:

Q. Are you satisfied with American involvement in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam?

A. No, definitely not. We made a bad error in the Dominican Republic by failing to seize stores of arms, ammunition and supplies. By now they're scattered throughout Santo Domingo and in the interior. This means we'll be faced with the possibility of guerrilla warfare there for many years to come. Our Marines apparently got no further than the streets and sidewalks of Santo Domingo; they should have seized all military supplies.

In Viet Nam many things are wrong, and there are only three ways to win the war against the Communists there. First, by a full U.S. Navy blockade of the country which would halt most of the arms shipments from Communist countries. Second, forget use of helicopters and clusters and lines of fighting units and revert to attack on the Vietnamese sea coasts through use of World War II landing craft. Then, chew up the country by segments by marching regiments back and forth across its narrow boundaries. Third, place a qualified American in command of all forces — including the Vietnamese forces.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to complete action today on a landmark bill setting up broad new health care for the aged programs and raising all Social Security benefits.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Thursday got a debate limitation agreement considered certain to bring a final vote by tonight.

Under the agreement, debate on all further amendments was limited to one hour each. Two hours were allowed for a motion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., to return the measure to the Finance Committee.

The Senate has disposed of 25 amendments in two days of voting so far, but many important ones remained.

Democratic leaders said they were confident of beating off any crippling changes and passing the bill with a heavy majority.

The bill would provide basic hospitalization for 19 million Americans who are 65 or older. A voluntary supplemental plan covering doctors' fees would be open to anyone 65 or over who wants to enroll and pay $3 a month premium. The estimated $6.8 billion yearly cost of the program would be financed mainly through increased Social Security taxes.

Curtis led a verbal assault on the bill from the Republican side Thursday, denouncing the health provisions as "brazen socialism."

Administration forces on Wednesday narrowly defeated, 43 to 39, an amendment of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to cover full hospital stays, arguing that this would overburden the financing.

Hartke said he would reoffer this in a somewhat different form today. The bill at present would provide a maximum of 120 days of hospital care for an illness.

British Hunt Escapee Tied To Robbery

LONDON (AP) — British police pressed a manhunt today for the second member of the great train robbery gang to escape from prison.

The escape of Ronald Arthur Biggs and three other convicts Thursday from London's Wandsworth Prison threatened to set off a major political row. Members of Parliament were expected to demand a thorough overhaul of prison security. London morning papers called for drastic changes.

Biggs, 35, was serving 30 years for his part in the August 1963 ambush of a mail train in which $7.2 million in currency was stolen. It was the biggest haul in British history.

The three men who escaped with Biggs had been jailed for other crimes.

Another 30-year man from the train robbery gang, Charles Wilson was sprung from jail in Birmingham 11 months ago by accomplices who broke into the jail. He has not been seen since.

Both Biggs and Wilson escaped from maximum security prisons.

Ten of the train robbers are still in prison, five of them for 30 years. Three others named by police as members of the gang have not been caught.

More than $5.6 million of the loot has not been recovered.

Pair Accused In Robbery, Cop-Slaying

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — Two Oregon murder-kidnap suspects threw away their pistols and surrendered meekly to highway patrolmen today, ending a crime spree which police say included a bank robbery, the slaying of a deputy sheriff and kidnapping of nine persons.

The dramatic three-day chase from Oregon, through Northern California and into Nevada, ended at 3:37 a.m.—PDT—when two California highway patrolmen spotted the fugitives near the Benton agricultural inspection station on the California-Nevada state line.

Ex-convicts Wilbur Marion Grey, 30, a native of Brunswick, Ga., and Carl Cletus Bowles, 24, of Amarillo, Tex., surrendered without resistance.

Their arrests came little more than an hour after they had released the last two of their hostages Mrs. Marie Champion and her 19-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Champion — wife of California Finance Director Hale Champion — described the two gunmen as "pathetic" and "really courteous all the time."

Champion, wounded slightly in the hip by a bullet fired by a Tonopah bystander, had been released earlier.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation took Grey and Bowles into custody and were to return them to Sacramento, Calif., for a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

Nevada Highway Patrol officers and deputies had trailed the fugitives and hostages — but kept a safe distance for fear the woman and child would be killed.

After surprising two Nevada officers who had stopped to check a car near Tonopah, Bowles and Grey commanded the officers' car. They talked frequently with officers via the police radio in the car and threatened to harm Mrs. Champion and the infant.

There was actual gunplay only once after Grey and Bowles were found in Nevada. It was in that exchange of fire that Champion was hurt.

At 12:05 a.m., Ralph Marks, a

Bank Bandits Nabbed; 2 Hostages OK

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—State police reported that two young men who robbed a branch bank near here today and took two women hostages were captured in Bossier Parish, Louisiana.

The hostages were not harmed police said.

The women were the only persons in the bank at the time of the robbery, police said. The bank is in Taylor, about 15 miles south of here and about five miles north of the Louisiana state line.

L. A. King, a member of the bank's advisory board, identified the women as Patsy Nation, 32, and Martha Hoyle, 27, both of Taylor.

Mrs. Ernestine Crews, who lives across the street from the bank, said she saw the two men come out of the bank and put the women in a blue 1951 Ford.

"They just marched them right into the car, one in the front seat and one in the back," Mrs. Crews said.

Severe Storm Warning Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Weather Bureau Friday issued a "severe weather" forecast for much of Ohio.

The area involved runs from 30 miles southeast of Covington, Ky., to 30 miles northeast of Youngstown, and is effective from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. EST.

The bureau said the possibility exists of severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging windstorms are expected in an area 60 miles either side of the line from below Covington to northeast of Youngstown.

Board of Education Okays Tentative Budget for 1966

Circleville's Board of Education last night approved a tentative budget of operating expenses and receipts for 1966.

A copy of the proposed budget is to be submitted to the Pickaway County Auditor's office by July 20. The Budget Commission then will act on all financial proposals from political subdivisions in November.

General fund receipts of the proposed budget for 1966 were listed as $1,048,252. Actual receipts for 1964, the last full year actual figures are available, were $1,086,329.06. There is an estimated balance of $35,687.90 included in the general fund for 1966.

Administrative costs, up from 1964 totals of $31,860.45, are estimated at $34,600. This figure includes salaries of the superintendent, his secretary, supplies and other administrative expenses.

AN ESTIMATED expenditure of $820,200 comes under the heading of "instruction." This provides for teacher, substitute teacher and principal salaries.

The 1964 total was for instruction $713,400.17. A great deal of this increase is due to hikes in the salary schedule, according to school officials.

Transportation of pupils for 1966 is expected to cost $26,400 — up from the 1964 figure of $17,569.37. This total includes bus driver salaries, gasoline, tires and repair of buses.

TAYLOR OUT, LODGE IN — President Johnson has announced the resignation of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor (left) as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam and the selection of Henry Cabot Lodge (right) as his replacement. Lodge was ambassador to Saigon before Taylor.

Taylor Resigns Viet Nam Post; Lodge Is Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has named Republican Henry Cabot Lodge, an outspoken supporter of Johnson's Vietnam war policies, for a second tour as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Administration officials insisted that the switch from Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, who is resigning, to Lodge would mean no change in U.S. policies or major war strategy. Lodge left the Saigon post just a year ago.

Lodge and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will fly to Saigon next Wednesday for a week-long round of conferences with Taylor and American and Vietnamese officials.

This reassessment of the progress of the war could produce some new ideas, but officials here said the main purpose was to make Lodge fully acquainted with all the problems and personalities involved before he takes over.

The White House announced Thursday Taylor's resignation and the President's selection of Lodge and released a "Dear Max" letter from Johnson to Taylor saying: "We shall miss you, but no man has more fully earned the right to meet his personal obligations."

Taylor, 63, succeeded Lodge in June 1964 when Lodge resigned as ambassador to return to the United States and work for the nomination of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania as Republican candidate for president. The nomination went to Barry Goldwater.

Johnson drafted Gen. Taylor from the position he then held as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to succeed Lodge. In his letter accepting the resignation Johnson said he was "bound to" (Continued on Page 2) and term as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Lodge is known by military leaders as a diplomat, a politician, Maxwell D. Taylor, who resigned, is a former four-star general.

The thinking here is that Lodge has been brought back to help solve the political problem involved, if victory can't be won on the battlefield.

A top military official, discussing military operations in Viet Nam agreed that the use of the word "adviser" pertaining to American troops is now a misnomer.

"We are playing a combat support role now...a ground support role to the government effort," he said.

He emphasized that this is still South Viet Nam's war. "I'm not suggesting that we won't fight on our own, but we will only fight alone against the Viet Cong when we are asked for that type of support by a responsible South Vietnamese commander," the spokesman continued.

Marines Hit Viet Reds in Island Action

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines made an amphibious landing on an island near their Chu Lai beachhead today and fought their way into a Vietnamese coastal headquarters that had been overrun by the Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The battle for An Hoa island, on which the headquarters is located, ended in a complete collapse of the Viet Cong assault forces, he said.

The Marines were reported to have encircled the enemy, who had been victorious only a few hours before. Four Viet Cong were killed by the Marines and 51 were captured, the spokesman said.

The Marines lost 3 killed and 14 wounded as they stormed into the shattered headquarters. They found the bodies of 16 Vietnamese navy men of the coastal junk force along with the bodies of two of the three American naval advisers assigned to the headquarters.

This was the first time American troops had been used as a reaction force against a Viet Cong attack.

A U.S. Navy destroyer rushed to An Hoa island, 345 miles northeast of Saigon, to cut off the Reds if they tried to escape by sea.

The spokesman said the headquarters was overrun at 5 a.m. by a surprise attack but that some of the government force escaped in their junks. He said the Viet Cong force was less than a battalion in size.

The Leathernecks called out for the first time to rescue a government force under attack, launched an amphibious assault in tracked landing vehicles which they brought with them when they landed in Viet Nam three months ago.

They reportedly sliced across a corner of the island's southeast peninsula, cutting off the red attackers.

The spokesman refused to say how many Marines were rushed to An Hoa.

The spokesman also reported that four U.S. Army advisers were missing following the ambush of a Vietnamese army battalion 37 miles northwest of Saigon Thursday.

Other sources said nearly two thirds of the 365-man government force were casualties — 151 killed, 25 wounded and 59 missing.

The ambush was in the classic Viet Cong pattern. The Communists attacked the Xon Dua outpost, in Binh Duong Province, then smashed the force sent to relieve it.

The U.S. spokesman said American, Australian and Vietnamese troops had killed about 150 Viet Cong and captured 7 others in their big sweep in the Communist-controlled "D" zone 25 to 35 miles northeast of Saigon. He refused to give government casualties until the force was withdrawn by unofficial sources said there were about 40 American casualties.

The U.S. spokesman said the operation ended today after only light contact with the Communists Thursday and the combined force was withdrawing to its base at Bien Hoa.

Rhodes' Raiders To Go Abroad
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has been busy in recent weeks selling Ohio to American tourists, will turn his attention to the international market next fall.

Rhodes announced Thursday he will personally lead a proposed Ohio trade mission to Europe. He invited anyone interested in export or import activities to accompany him on the trip, tentatively set for early November.

The governor said it is hoped that the mission will bring back contracts which will result in more jobs for Ohio.

Retired Marine Itches for Fight

SALUDA, Va. (AP) — At 67, retired Marine Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller wants to fight again. He is critical of American military efforts in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and has requested a combat command.

"I am tired and ashamed to look the tax payers of the United States in the face," he said in a letter to the commandant of the Marine Corps May 14, which he made public for the first time today. He stressed his experience in guerrilla warfare in Haiti and Nicaragua in the 1920s and 1930s, and his combat record in the Pacific in World War II and Korea.

(In Washington, Marine Commandant Gen. Wallace M. Greene said Puller's request for reactivation had been denied.)

Craggy and blunt as ever, and appearing physically and mentally fit, Puller answered these questions at his Tidewater home here in an interview with The Associated Press:

Q. Are you satisfied with American involvement in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam?

A. No, definitely not. We made a bad error in the

Board of Education Okays Tentative Budget for 1966

Circleville's Board of Education last night approved a tentative budget of operating expenses and receipts for 1966.

A copy of the proposed budget is to be submitted to the Pickaway County Auditor's office by July 20. The Budget Commission then will act on all financial proposals from political subdivisions in November.

General fund receipts of the proposed budget for 1966 were listed as $1,048,252. Actual receipts for 1964, the last full year actual figures are available, were $1,086,329.06. There is an estimated balance of $35,687.90 included in the general fund for 1966.

Administrative costs, up from 1964 totals of $31,860.45, are estimated at $34,600. This figure includes salaries of the superintendent, his secretary, supplies and other administrative expenses.

AN ESTIMATED expenditure of $820,200 comes under the heading of "instruction." This provides for teacher, substitute teacher and principal salaries.

The 1964 total was for instruction $713,400.17. A great deal of this increase is due to hikes in the salary schedule, according to school officials.

Transportation of pupils for 1966 is expected to cost $26,400 — up from the 1964 figure of $17,560.37. This total includes bus driver salaries, gasoline, tires and repair of buses.

LBJ Names Moyers as Press Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill D. Moyers, the new White House press secretary, has started out by pledging that he will be "opening the doors to the news as wide as they can be opened."

Moyers, barely 31 but possessing an impressive government record, took over Thursday as President Johnson's press secretary.

George E. Reedy, after holding the $28,500-a-year job nearly 16 months, bowed out with a leave of absence to get medical treatment for a painful foot ailment called "hammer toes."

Without question, Moyers has stepped into one of the toughest jobs in Washington — a job perhaps more difficult than usual because of Johnson's tendency to be his own press secretary and to react like a volcano even to trivial news items he considers critical.

Reedy, though a loyal Johnson supporter for 13 years, never gave the impression to observers of enjoying the full confidence of the President. Most newsmen felt that often Reedy appeared to be almost the last to know what was going on inside the White House.

Moyers, a Texan, apparently does have Johnson's respect and confidence. He is said to be one of the few White House insiders who doesn't hesitate to stand up and be counted when he disagrees with his chief.

Moyers, formerly deputy director of the Peace Corps, was drafted for White House duty as soon as Johnson became president, and he has been in the inner circle ever since.

Americans Seek To Adopt Orphans of Viet Warfare

NEW YORK (AP) — As the war in Viet Nam grows, so does the interest of Americans in adopting children orphaned by the fighting, relief agencies report.

Legal red tape all but prevents actually bringing the children into U.S. homes.

But the various agencies, supported by public contributions, are caring for some 25,000 homeless children in Viet Nam, along with tens of thousands of other refugees.

A news photograph — like other memorable pictures of the child victims of past wars — did much to intensify Americans' desire to help. This was Associated Press Pulitzer prize-winning photographer Horst Faas' picture of a bandaged girl crying as she limped away from the Dong Xoai outpost where her parents had been killed in battle.

Offers of help poured in from all over America and abroad.

"I want to adopt that little girl," an Oak Lawn, Ill., woman wrote the Foster Parents Plan headquarters in New York.

"We have to do something constructive in order to overcome communism. Here is a victim of communism, twice a victim. I would be delighted if I could have that child. I wanted her at once."

The Foster Parents program enables an individual to adopt a child by proxy — orphaned or not — contributing $15 a month to care for him in his native country. Worldwide in scope, the program now numbers 4,500 Americans among the children it helps.

American in Saigon, Miss A. Elizabeth Brown, and a staff of 28 South Vietnamese locate the children to fill the 25-51 inquiry to Foster Parents each week.

Solon Fears Consumer To Be Shorted on Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio congressman says he fears that businessmen will pass along to consumers only about $1 billion of the recent $1.7-billion federal excise tax cut.

Democratic Rep. Charles A. Vanik said his survey of retail prices in Cleveland and Washington showed practically no benefit of the tax cut to consumers on a number of items, including phonograph records, radios, clocks, sporting goods and small home appliances.

Senate Nears Medicare OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is expected to complete action today on a landmark bill setting up broad new health care for the aged programs and raising all Social Security benefits.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield Thursday got a debate limitation agreement considered certain to bring a final vote by tonight.

Under the agreement, debate on all further amendments was limited to one hour each. Two hours were allowed for a motion by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., to return the measure to the Finance Committee.

The Senate has disposed of 25 amendments in two days of voting so far, but many important ones remained.

Democratic leaders said they were confident of beating off any crippling changes and passing the bill with a heavy majority.

The bill would provide basic hospitalization for 19 million Americans who are 65 or older. A voluntary supplemental plan covering doctors' fees would be open to anyone 65 or over who wants to enroll and pay $3 a month premium. The estimated $6.8 billion yearly cost of the program would be financed mainly through increased Social Security taxes.

Curtis led a verbal assault on the bill from the Republican side Thursday, denouncing the health provisions as "brazen socialism."

Administration forces on Wednesday narrowly defeated, 43 to 39, an amendment of Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., to cover full hospital stays, arguing that this would overburden the financing.

Hartke said he would reoffer this in a somewhat different form today. The bill at present would provide a maximum of 120 days of hospital care for an illness.

Johnson Says Viet War To 'Get Worse'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said of the war in Viet Nam today "we expect it will get worse before it gets better."

Johnson told a news conference that U.S. manpower needs are increasing in the southeast Asian struggle and will continue to increase.

He said requirements will go beyond the previously announced goal of 75,000 men which will, he said, be reached shortly.

"Whatever is required I am sure will be supplied," Johnson said.

"We don't plan to let up until the aggression ceases."

Johnson said that in his appointment of Henry Cabot Lodge to serve a second time as U.S. ambassador in South Viet Nam he believes the American people have "the best man available . . . to do that job." Lodge replaces Maxwell D. Taylor.

Kored Is Hinted Midget Sub Sailor

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The Korean national police announced today the capture of an armed North Korean Communist agent and said he might be a crewman of a midget submarine found in a mud flat of the Han River Monday.

The U.N. Command spokesman had no comment on speculation that the 15-foot-vessel was operated by North Koreans. He said investigations were continuing.

Police said the captured man apparently was one of two agents who fled after an exchange of fire with a South Korean army patrol Monday night near the western end of the demilitarized zone. They said a third agent was killed.

Another 30-year man from the train robbery gang, Charles Wilson was sprung from jail in Birmingham 11 months ago by accomplices who broke into the jail. He has not been seen since.

Both Biggs and Wilson escaped from maximum security prisons.

Ten of the train robbers are still in prison, five of them for 30 years. Three others named by police as members of the gang have not been caught.

More than $5.6 million of the loot has not been recovered.

Pair Accused In Robbery, Cop-Slaying

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — Two Oregon murder-kidnap suspects threw away their pistols and surrendered meekly to highway patrolmen today, ending a crime spree which police say included a bank robbery, the slaying of a deputy sheriff and kidnapping of nine persons.

The dramatic three-day chase from Oregon, through Northern California and into Nevada, ended at 3:37 a.m.—PDT—when two California highway patrolmen spotted the fugitives near the Benton agricultural inspection station on the California-Nevada state line.

Ex-convicts Wilbur Marion Grey, 30, a native of Brunswick, Ga., and Carl Cletes Bowles, 24, of Amarillo, Tex., surrendered without resistance.

Their arrests came little more than an hour after they had released the last two of their hostages Mrs. Marie Champion and her 19-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Champion — wife of California Finance Director Hale Champion — described the two gunmen as "pathetic" and "really courteous all the time."

Champion, wounded slightly in the hip by a bullet fired by a Tonopah bystander, had been released earlier.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation took Grey and Bowles into custody and were to return them to Sacramento, Calif., for a hearing before a U.S. commissioner.

Nevada Highway Patrol officers and deputies had trailed the fugitives and hostages — but kept a safe distance for fear the woman and child would be killed.

After surprising two Nevada officers who had stopped to check a car near Tonopah, Bowles and Grey commanded the officers' car. They talked frequently with officers via the police radio in the car and threatened to harm Mrs. Champion and the infant.

There was actual gunplay only once after Grey and Bowles were found in Nevada. It was in that exchange of fire that Champion was hurt.

OSU Speakers Rule Brings New Grumble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hints of student retaliations and faculty resignations rumbled on the Ohio State University campus today following the board of trustees' refusal to liberalize the controversial speakers rule.

The board voted 5-3 Thursday against rescinding portions of the rule which prevent Communists and other "subversives" from speaking on campus.

Dennis Knepley, president of Students for Liberal Action, termed the board's action "ridiculous" and promised that "Communist and Fascist" speakers definitely would be brought onto the campus next fall in defiance of the rule.

David Spitz, outspoken professor of political science, suggested that university President Novice G. Fawcett resign in protest of the board's action.

"It is difficult to see how the president can hope to maintain his position in the face of a direct repudiation which constitutes a vote of no confidence," Spitz said.

Fawcett had urged the trustees to follow recommendations of the Faculty Advisory Committee, which studied the issue and said a change in the speakers rule was necessary.

"This university must be no less free than others," Fawcett said in a lengthy statement read to the board before the vote.

card dealer at the Club Tonomah, heard angry shouting outside the club.

"If you don't bring sandwiches in six minutes," a voice shouted, "we're coming in shooting."

When no one moved inside the club, the man opened fire. Mark fired three shots at the gunmen. One of the slugs nicked Champion in the hip.

Being trailed by officers, Bowles and Grey drove to Coal-dale Junction on U.S. 95. There they bought two bottles of liquor, cigarettes and some food and paid $250 for it.

Then the gunmen drove north, reversed their course and crossed the Nevada state line to Benton. There, they notified the Nevada Highway Patrol they were releasing Mrs. Champion and the child.

Bowles and Grey left the woman and child in the stolen police car and fled on foot.

About an hour later, officers Howard Hoffman and Bill Rich spotted the fugitives walking near the Benton station.

"We ordered them to halt and they did," Hoffman said. They made no attempt to use their guns.

Their release of Mrs. Champion and the girl followed the pattern set by Bowles and Grey on Tuesday when they released six Oregon people in Sacramento.

Going back to the Portland bank robbery as a starting point, law enforcement officials give this rundown of the multiple crimes:

On Tuesday, Bowles and Grey robbed the bank. Later that day they were stopped by Oregon Deputy Sheriff Carlton E. Smith near Springfield.

Smith's body, with a shotgun blast and six revolver bullets in it, was found beside his patrol car.

The ex-convicts went on to the nearby home of Mrs. David Corbin, 33. There, they forced her and her son, Clinton, 12, to drive them toward the California border.

The Corbin car became mired in mud near where Uldis Riekstins of Renton, Wash., his wife and two boys were camping.

Grey and Bowles forced Mrs. Corbin and her son into the Riekstins' trailer camper and the eight headed for California.

The six Oregon hostages were released shortly after midnight Wednesday in Sacramento.

The Champion kidnap followed.

Champion told newsmen at Tonomah he didn't think the men had planned to take his family—or knew who he was.

"They were running and looking and it happened to be our house. They told my wife to come along and bring the baby," Champion said.

The fugitives drove below Stockton, Calif., then over the Sonora Pass and into Nevada to Carson City.

The FBI said Grey and Bowles had been charged in Oregon with bank robbery and kidnapping and were held on $150,000 bond each. They also have been charged in Lane County, Ore., with first degree murder for the slaying of the deputy sheriff.

Car Glass Broken

Dale Diltz, 409 N. Court St., reported to police yesterday that the left front door glass in his car was broken. He said the auto had been parked in front of his house.

Taylor Resigns....

honor the understanding, he had at the time of your initial appointment," that Taylor would serve in Saigon for about a year.

In his letter of resignation, Taylor referred to this agreement. It was understood that he felt an obligation to his wife to return to private life after 45 years of government service.

"I shall depart," Taylor wrote the President, "with the feeling that our policy is the right one and will lead to a successful conclusion if we persist with confidence and determination."

Lodge, who was at his Beverly, Mass., home when the announcement was made, said "I am deeply honored by this mark of confidence and shall spare no effort to justify it."

News of the Lodge appointment drew both praise and blame in Congress. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called Lodge "a good man" with Saigon experience.

But Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, called it a "disaster" which might signal a change in the U.S. effort in Vietnam. House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said he was "perplexed" by the switch and called for "a clear explanation" whether it meant a change in the U.S. policy of firmness.

Lodge is 63, a former senator from Massachusetts, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, and 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee.

The late President John F. Kennedy first sent Lodge as ambassador to Saigon in July 1963. Following his return here last year and his foray into Republican politics, he resumed ties with the Johnson administration on Viet Nam. Last February Johnson appointed him as a consultant on Vietnamese war policy and Lodge traveled around the world to develop support for the U.S.-South Vietnamese cause in other countries.

Administration officials said that Lodge, like Taylor before him, would have over-all responsibility for the conduct of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam. They reported that Deputy Ambassador O. Alexis Johnson, a career diplomat, is expected to stay on at least for a while. There was no word of any change in the top military command held by Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

The switch in ambassadors comes at a crucial stage of the war. Both the U.S.-South Vietnamese forces and the Communist Viet Cong are on the offensive. On the diplomatic front North Viet Nam and Red China have rebuffed all peace approaches. In the air war the United States is carrying on extensive strikes against Viet Cong targets in the South and targets in Communist North Viet Nam. Over-all U.S. strategy is aimed at persuading North Viet Nam that the Communists cannot win in the South even with heavy North Vietnamese support.

Correspondent Winds Up Tour Of Red China

Editor's Note — The writer is a correspondent for the South- am Newspapers of Canada. His dispatches from China, distrib- uted by The Associated Press, have been appearing in this newspaper.

By CHARLES LYNCH
CANTON, China (AP) —
Notes from a correspondent winding up a two-month assign- ment in China:

Near Canton, we passed peas- ants on treadmills, pumping water into the rice paddies. In another place, they were doing the job with dippers attached to long poles.

Everywhere there were the cargo rickshaws that degrade their haulers, even though the guide tries to persuade me they are a big improvement on the old carrying-poles, which inci- dentally are still very much in evidence.

I suppose a man, or a woman, should feel it is progress when he is relieved of a 100-pound load on a pole and told that from now on he will drag a 500- pound load in a rickshaw.

The largest commune of many I visited, contained 12,300 households and 51,780 individ- uals, with a laboring force of 19- 600.

Communes sound harsh when you put them down on paper, but the sight of so many people working so hard in a common cause, and to such obvious ef- fect, is not something to be dis- missed in a world where rural lethargy or the flight to the cities is the scourge of underde- veloped countries.

The communes of Red China are far more stimulating than her cities or her factories, and for sheer ingenuity and energy they mark the Chinese peasant as being in a class by himself.

The restaurants of Canton are fabulous, both in setting and cuisine, offeri: such goodies as stewed fish lips, braised big fish head with bean-curd, stewed boneless duck-webs with mush- rooms, scrambled fresh milk, double boiled sea-dog fish with chicken-feet, big skirt shark's fin, crab-fat juicy meat dum- plings.

market on the Pearl River waterfront, and being bought with relish. It was whispered to me that another local delicacy is cat, and y have a dish mixing snake and cat, called the "fight between the dragon and the tiger."

Peculiarities of Humidity

As the weather is the Number One topic of conversation these days, it would seem that this is a good time to straighten out a misconception. If it is possible, to explain the peculiarities of "the humidity" so that it can be understood.

The misconception rather widely held is that it can only be humid in the summer time, or that heat and humidity go together. Not true. In many areas the humidity is higher in the winter than it is in the summer.

According to a weatherman in a humid zone, many persons read a relative humidity figure and forget the "relative" part. The weatherman brings out that word "relative" again, and explains that hot air has a capacity for more moisture than cool air. Current "hot and humid" weather in many sections of the country may be followed, four or five months from now, by "cold and humid" weather.

Some day next winter, when the mercury drops to 34 degrees, it may be an invigorating, snappy cold, by no means uncomfortable. Relatively little humidity. The next day may hit 34 degrees and be shivery as all get out. High humidity. It's all relative, you know.

Like the weatherman said, people only talk about the humidity when it's hot. And when they talk about it, they feel it all the more.

McCarthyite Image

Bertrand Russell, or Lord Russell, as we colonialists should say, would be the last person in the world to commend the research practices attributed to the late Senator Joe McCarthy. But the venerable British Lord, mathematician and philosopher has just been caught in the most flagrant instance of "McCarthyism" that we have come across lately.

It happened the other night on the Merv Griffin WPIX-TV (Channel 11) program. After denouncing the "strategic hamlets" strategy in Vietnam and accusing the Americans of setting up the "tiniest minority of people in Vietnam... as a puppet government," Lord Russell quoted from an "extract published in the Dallas Morning News on January 1, 1963." Here is the quotation:

"Supposedly, the purpose of the forty-five villages is to keep the Viet Cong out. But barbed wire denies entrance and exit. Vietnamese farmers are forced, at gun point, into these virtual concentration camps. Their homes, possessions and crops are burned. In the province of Ken Tuong, seven villagers were led into the town square, their stomachs were slashed, their livers extracted and put on display. These victims were women and children. In another village, expectant mothers were invited to the square by government forces to be honored. Their stomachs were ripped open, and their unborn babies removed."

Lord Russell went on to say that he could read "any number of extracts from any number of newspapers" saying "This is what America is doing." But it could be that he would have to go to the Communist press for his passages. I keep up with a wide variety of American newspapers, and I haven't seen anything like the quotation which Lord Russell took from the Dallas Morning News.

As it turns out, the quotation was not from the news or editorial columns of the Dallas paper. Smelling a rat, Merv Griffin did the research that Lord Russell should have done and discovered that the extract had come from a letter to the Dallas Morning News written by Nu Goyman Taibin, a Vietnamese businessman who has been living in France. Nu Goyman Taibin, an opponent of the Diem regime, was not in South Vietnam at the time of the alleged atrocities which he so graphically described.

Now, Lord Russell was speaking the literal truth when he said of the Nu Goyman Taibin letter that "this is here a quotation from a paper in Dallas." But, when he went on to say, whimsically, that "Dallas is not generally considered in the forefront of revolution," he left his listeners with the distinct impression that the quotation came from a source which the Dallas News editors would stand behind.

When Merv Griffin heard Lord Russell's "quotation from a paper in Dallas," he obviously assumed that it was something from a reputable news source. Said Griffin, "I am amazed, on this, that there wasn't an investigation." All that Lord Russell managed to say was, "Well, I don't... remember that anybody was punished."

"Oh, they should have been," said Griffin, but then the normal Griffin skepticism took over. A call to the Dallas paper brought out the fact that the quotation was from a letter from a partisan who was not an eyewitness to any of the alleged atrocities.

It pains me, personally, to see Lord Russell using as evidence something that no judge in his right mind would accept in any court where Anglo-Saxon traditions of justice prevail. For Lord Russell was once a great logician. Some forty years ago I read his "Proposed Roads to Freedom," and marveled at his lucidity, his balance and his skepticism. He still retains the lucidity, but the skepticism which led him to check and recheck his premises in the old days has quite evaporated with age. Too bad that the man who hates "McCarthyism" should have become the mirror image of the thing he attacks.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What causes "athlete's foot"? Is it really more common in athletes?

"Athlete's foot" is a fungus of the skin. The fungus, molds and yeasts that cause many of the annoying skin disorders seem to flourish especially well between the toes.

Athletes are not more susceptible to this annoying and sometimes incapacitating condition than the sport spectators. Fungus infections happen more frequently in athletes because the fungus thrives in moist, warm areas. The gymnasium floor, the locker and steam room are particularly good breeding grounds for the fungus that finds a happy home on the moist skin.

How does the fungus do its damage?

The fungus thrives on the scales of the moist skin. It

Cost of F100 Ammo Tabulated

By Hal Boyle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. James A. Minish and his men have cost Uncle Sam $21,441,250 in 99 days—but feel the government got its money's worth.

"It may even have been a bargain," said Maj. Minish, his taciturn face breaking into a smile. "Over-all, we feel we did a good job."

The $21-million figure reflects the cost of the ordnance his squadron of F100 fighter planes expended while flying nearly 1 1/4 million miles and 2,200 sorties.

It doesn't include the fuel consumption, salaries of the flyers, or the value of two planes lost in action.

The major, a native of Yellowstone Park, Wyo., whose wife and four children now live at Alexandria, La., started posting the ammunition costs at the beginning of the squadron's tour of duty.

"I wanted to teach them this stuff is too valuable to waste," said Minish. "It caught their interest to see the cost of a mission in terms of dollars and cents."

The $21-million-plus total included 750,000 20mm cannon shells at $2.05 each, 3,500 bombs at $350 each, 2,250 napalm bombs at $275, and 17,200 rockets at $1,050 apiece.

On his 99th day the major lowered his wheels and came in for a perfect landing. It was his 107th mission, 10 more than any other member of his squadron.

"I expended 800 rounds of 20mm fire at some Viet Cong in a tree area northwest of here," he said. "I never thought about it being my last mission. I was just like any other one."

"I haven't been sweating out the last few particularly. Flying as many missions as we have, someone is bound to be hit now and then. But I've never been concerned over my own welfare."

"I've never carried good luck charms. I feel our training has made us competent, and I have faith in our planes and our crew chiefs."

Minish is admired at the base here for his qualities of character and leadership and the deep concern he has shown for the welfare of the officers and men in his command. Not one of his men has cracked up under combat strain or grueling 14- to 16-hour days on repair work.

The squadron flew 1,400 sorties in South Viet Nam and 800 against North Vietnamese targets.

"We think our work here helped the whole effort," the major said. "Sometimes you come back feeling unsatisfied when you've bombed the Viet Cong in heavy foliage. All you can see are the explosions. You can't tell the results."

"But in several heavy ground battles, our F100s have made the difference. So over-all, we're going home with a feeling of satisfaction."

the figure is close to $290 per capita.

But the federal government, too, has been taking in more than before it cut the rates. Its receipts from all sources are up $4 billion over a year ago.

The Treasury explains that with two million more persons employed now than before the tax cut early in 1964, and with many others getting higher pay and working longer hours, the total personal income has been rising. So there is more subject to tax, even if the rates have been lowered.

Also corporate profits have been soaring. The corporate income tax rate was lowered in two steps — from 52 per cent to 48 per cent. But tax collections on the larger earnings netted the Treasury nearly $2 billion more in the fiscal year that ended June 30.

The Treasury also suspects that much of the increase in collections in the past year has been due to their new computers. These machines keep a closer eye on an individual's sources of income, such as interest and dividends. And more of these are being reported now than when tax forms were inspected only by the human eye, and on a sampling basis.

Some taxes you pay the federal government aren't included in the cut on income rates. Social Security levies, for instance, have risen as more persons were employed. And next year the percentage withheld from pay checks will be steeper than ever.

But the biggest percentage rise in tax collections has been at the state and local level.

The Tax Foundation, a New York-based research agency, reports that from fiscal 1955 to 1963 federal tax receipts rose 72 per cent. In the same 10 years state tax receipts jumped 136 per cent, and local governments increased their take by 117 per cent.

Some of this was due to increased prosperity supplying higher incomes and swelling property values on which to levy taxes. Much of it was due to use of new taxes or higher rates on old ones.

If the U.S. Treasury could take in about $4 billion more from all sources in the 1965 fiscal year, the state and local collectors probably did at least as well.

One way or another, many Americans will be paying more taxes this year, even if the federal income rate has been cut.

Peculiarities of Humidity

As the weather is the Number One topic of conversation these days, it would seem that this is a good time to straighten out a misconception. If it is possible, to explain the peculiarities of "the humidity" so that it can be understood.

The misconception rather widely held is that it can only be humid in the summer time, or that heat and humidity go together. Not true. In many areas the humidity is higher in the winter than it is in the summer.

According to a weatherman in a humid zone, many persons read a relative humidity figure and forget the "relative" part. The weatherman brings out that word "relative" again, and explains that hot air has a capacity for more moisture than cool air. Current "hot and humid" weather in many sections of the country may be followed, four or five months from now, by "cold and humid" weather.

Some day next winter, when the mercury drops to 34 degrees, it may be an invigorating, snappy cold, by no means uncomfortable. Relatively little humidity. The next day may hit 34 degrees and be shivery as all get out. High humidity. It's all relative, you know.

Like the weatherman said, people only talk about the humidity when it's hot. And when they talk about it, they feel it all the more.

McCarthyite Image

Bertrand Russell, or Lord Russell, as we colonials should say, would be the last person in the world to commend the research practices attributed to the late Senator Joe McCarthy. But the venerable British Lord, mathematician and philosopher has just been caught in the most flagrant instance of "McCarthyism" that we have come across lately.

It happened the other night on the Merv Griffin WPIX-TV (Channel 11) program. After denouncing the "strategic hamlets" strategy in Vietnam and accusing the Americans of setting up the "tiny minority of people in Vietnam... as a puppet government," Lord Russell quoted from an "extract published in the Dallas Morning News on January 1, 1963." Here is the quotation:

"Supposedly, the purpose of the forty-five villages is to keep the Viet Cong out. But barbed wire denies entrance and exit. Vietnamese farmers are forced, at gun point, into these virtual concentration camps. Their homes, possessions and crops are burned. In the province of Ken Tuong, seven villagers were led into the town square, their stomachs were slashed, their livers extracted and put on display. These victims were women and children. In another village, expectant mothers were invited to the square by government forces to be honored. Their stomachs were ripped

Lord Russell went on to say that he could read "any number of extracts from any number of newspapers" saying "This is what America is doing." But it could be that he would have to go to the Communist press for his passages. I keep up with a wide variety of American newspapers, and I haven't seen anything like the quotation which Lord Russell took from the Dallas Morning News.

As it turns out, the quotation was not from the news or editorial columns of the Dallas paper. Smelling a rat, Merv Griffin did the research that Lord Russell should have done and discovered that the extract had come from a letter to the Dallas Morning News written by Nu Goyman Taibin, a Vietnamese businessman who has been living in France. Nu Goyman Taibin, an opponent of the Diem regime, was not in South Vietnam at the time of the alleged atrocities which he so graphically described.

Now, Lord Russell is speaking the literal truth when he said of the Nu Goyman Taibin letter that "this is here a quotation from a paper in Dallas." But, when he went on to say, whimsically, that "Dallas is not generally considered in the forefront of revolution," he left his listeners with the distinct impression that the quotation came from a source which the Dallas News editors would stand behind.

When Merv Griffin heard Lord Russell's "quotation from a paper in Dallas," he obviously assumed that it was something from a reputable news source. Said Griffin, "I am amazed, on this, that there wasn't an investigation." All that Lord Russell managed to say was, "Well, I don't... remember that anybody was punished."

"Oh, they should have been," said Griffin, but then the normal Griffin skepticism took over. A call to the Dallas paper brought out the fact that the quotation was from a letter from a partisan who was not an eyewitness to any of the alleged atrocities.

It pains me, personally, to see Lord Russell using as evidence something that no judge in his right mind would accept in any court where Anglo-Saxon traditions of justice prevail. For Lord Russell was once a great logician. Some forty years ago I read his "Proposed Roads to Freedom," and marveled at his lucidity, his balance and his skepticism. He still retains the lucidity, but the skepticism which led him to check and recheck his premises in the old days has quite evaporated with age. Too bad that the man who hates "McCarthyism" should have become the mirror image of the thing he attacks.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What causes "athlete's foot"? Is it really more common in athletes?

"Athlete's foot" is a fungus of the skin. The fungus, molds and yeasts that cause many of the annoying skin disorders seem to flourish especially well between the toes.

Athletes are not more susceptible to this annoying and sometimes incapacitating condition than the sport spectators. Fungus infections happen more frequently in athletes because the fungus thrives in moist, warm areas. The gymnasium floor, the locker and steam room are particularly good breeding grounds for the fungus that finds a happy home on the moist skin.

How does the fungus do its damage? The fungus thrives on the scales of the moist skin. It seems to lie and wait for the skin to be chafed and then invades the broken skin and causes its unpleasant symptoms of pain, redness, swelling, itching and even blistering.

As the fungus grows it breaks down the skin resistance to the bacteria that normally lie on it. When a bacterial infection is added to the fungus infection, Athlete's Foot becomes serious rather than just annoying.

How can Athlete's Foot be prevented?

Thorough drying of the feet followed by liberal use of dusting powders is probably the best preventive method.

Special foot baths before and after entering a pool or shower may do some good but are not intended to be substitutes for thorough drying. Shoes should be sprinkled with dusting powders during use, and on their "free day."

Since the fungus can be passed from person to person, borrowing anyone's towels, socks, shoes and sneakers must be avoided.

How can Athlete's Foot best be treated?

If the situation is an acute one with blistering or redness, foot baths and wet compresses of diluted Burows solution are soothing.

Care must be taken at this inflamed stage to avoid strong chemicals, astringents and ointments, for they may do more harm than good. During this acute phase the doctor's direction, rather than self-medication, is advisable.

Long-standing chronic fungus infections seem to respond well to many good preparations called "fatty acid powders." These can be used safely as a preventive measure, too.

The newest hope on the wonder drug horizon for fungus disease is the antibiotic griseofulvin. Stubborn fungus infections of the skin and around the nails are sometimes spectacularly controlled when this new drug is taken by mouth.

Skin doctors (dermatologists) are very enthusiastic about this antibiotic. They modify their enthusiasm with a sensible warning. Don't use this or any other medication for long periods without supervision.

'Chesty' Puller Itches To Join Viet Battle

Q. Do you suppose the so-called "spreading-in-blot strategy" of using fighting units in clusters?

A. That has been tried a thousand times and it just doesn't work. The first principle of warfare is to concentrate more of our people against the enemy's. In Korea when our troops were in clusters or in long lines from sea to sea the Chinese Communists attacked in columns and chewed our people to pieces. To win we must form our people in columns and head for the Communists and destroy them on contact.

Q. Apparently, general, you also oppose use of helicopters in transporting attack units?

A. That so-called strategy is a lot of nonsense. Helicopters are very vulnerable — I'll even go so far as to say they're "sitting ducks." Anytime you use helicopters for this purpose you're going to have a catastrophe. This has been proved in Viet Nam; just look at our losses this way. Helicopters are useful in wars only in small numbers and only for evacuating wounded and bringing in small supplies of food, rations and ammunition. This is their limit in battle.

Q. Do you approve of the present role of the Marines in Viet Nam?

A. Absolutely not! United States Marines traditionally have been trained as attacking fighting men — not as policemen or night watchmen. Our Marines aren't permitted to attack, and that is the sole purpose of their existence. Why should Marines have to waste their time guarding air bases? Doesn't the Air Force have night watchmen?

Q. What would you do to improve security in Viet Nam, particularly at the air bases?

A. Anyone familiar with military history has only to recall Caesar. He said that before his legions ate or slept at night, they would secure their defenses. If this had been done at the American air bases, we wouldn't have lost millions of dollars in planes and scores of dead and wounded. If these people would ever see — as I have many times — a sentry with his throat cut, there would be fewer successful Viet Cong attacks on the air bases.

Q. Do we need a substantial military success before negotiations in Viet Nam?

A. Yes — defeat of the Viet Cong. In my opinion, our Viet Nam policy had had one mistake: Instead of bombing the Vietnamese jungle we should bomb Hanoi and other major targets.

Q. General, many people say our military policies in Viet Nam are similar to those that caused the French defeat there. Do you agree?

A. That is exactly right. We haven't learned a thing from the French defeat; in fact, we seem to be copying much of the bad tactics of the French. The American commanders should not lose sight of the fact that Ho Chi Minh, the Vietnamese Communist boss, defeated a French army of 400,000 men. He is backed by years of guerrilla warfare experience, and a man successful in that type of war can be successful in any type of war.

Mother of 4 Again Wins Air Derby

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Kansas housewife, Mrs. Mary Ann Noah, won the all-woman, transcontinental Powder Puff Derby for the second straight year. The winners were announced here Thursday.

The Mission, Kan., mother of four — a dark-horse until the last lap — defeated 70 other women pilots in the 2,400 mile air race which began in El Cajon, Calif., Saturday morning. It ended here Wednesday noon.

The results were determined on a handicap basis.

Runnerup is Mrs. Frances Bera, Long Beach, Calif., who has won seven of the 19 annual races. She has competed in 15 of them.

Mrs. Noah's co-pilot was Mrs. Mary Akins, Wichita, Kan., the mother of three teen-aged children. Mrs. Bera was accompanied on the trip by Margaret A. Head, also of Long Beach.

Third place went to June Douglas, a Palm Beach, Fla., investment broker who led most of the way, but dropped down when she lost time because of bad weather on the last lap between here and Savannah.

Miss Merle Ann Shallow, a 20-year-old co-ed from Bucknell University, won fourth place on a solo jaunt.

Mrs. Noah, despite the fact that she won last year, had been considered out of the running until the final run from Montgomery, Ala., to Chattanooga in a 160-horsepower Piper Cherokee.

Ohio Congressman Raps Voter Literacy Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John J. Gilligan, D-Ohio, speaking in support of the administration's voting rights bill under debate in the House, said Thursday the facts indisputably support charges of discrimination in voting and registration. "I deem myself a literate citizen," Gilligan said, "but I sincerely doubt that I could answer questions in some literacy tests that have been used in voter registration."

'Chesty' Puller Itches To Join Viet Battle

Q. Do you suppose the so-called "spreading in-blot strategy" of using fighting units in clusters?

A. That has been tried a thousand times and it just doesn't work. The first principle of warfare is to concentrate more of our people against the enemy's. In Korea when our troops were in clusters or in long lines from sea to sea the Chinese Communists attacked in columns and chewed our people to pieces. To win we must form our people in columns and head for the Communists and destroy them on contact.

Q. Apparently, general, you also oppose use of helicopters in transporting attack units?

A. That so-called strategy is a lot of nonsense. Helicopters are very vulnerable — I'll even go so far as to say they're "sitting ducks." Anytime you use helicopters for this purpose you're going to have a catastrophe. This has been proved in Viet Nam; just look at our losses this way. Helicopters are useful in wars only in small numbers and only for evacuating wounded and bringing in small supplies of food, rations and ammunition. This is their limit in battle.

Q. Do you approve of the present role of the Marines in Viet Nam?

A. Absolutely not! United States Marines traditionally have been trained as attacking fighting men — not as policemen or night watchmen. Our Marines aren't permitted to attack, and that is the sole purpose of their existence. Why should Marines have to waste their time guarding air bases? Doesn't the Air Force have night watchmen?

Q. What would you do to improve security in Viet Nam, particularly at the air bases?

A. Anyone familiar with military history has only to recall Caesar. He said that before his legions ate or slept at night, they would secure their defenses. If this had been done at the American air bases, we wouldn't have lost millions of dollars in planes and scores of dead and wounded. If these people would ever see — as I have many times — a sentry with his throat cut, there would be fewer successful Viet Cong attacks on the air bases.

Q. Do we need a substantial military success before negotiations in Viet Nam?

A. Yes — defeat of the Viet Cong. In my opinion, our Viet Nam policy had had one mistake: Instead of bombing the Vietnamese jungle we should bomb Hanoi and other major targets.

Q. General, many people say our military policies in Viet Nam are similar to those that caused the French defeat there. Do you agree?

A. That is exactly right. We haven't learned a thing from the French defeat; in fact, we seem to be copying much of the bad tactics of the French. The American commanders should not lose sight of the fact that Ho Chi Minh, the Vietnamese Communist boss, defeated a French army of 400,000 men. He is backed by years of guerrilla warfare experience, and a man successful in that type of war can be successful in any type of war.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A woman who screamed for police to help her escape from a man refused to testify against him two weeks later. "I'm married to him now," she explained.

Mother of 4 Again Wins Air Derby

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Kansas housewife, Mrs. Mary Ann Noah, won the all-woman, transcontinental Powder Puff Derby for the second straight year. The winners were announced here Thursday.

The Mission, Kan., mother of four — a dark-horse until the last lap — defeated 70 other women pilots in the 2,400 mile air race which began in El Cajon, Calif., Saturday morning. It ended here Wednesday noon.

The results were determined on a handicap basis.

Runnerup is Mrs. Frances Bera, Long Beach, Calif., who has won seven of the 19 annual races. She has competed in 15 of them.

Mrs. Noah's co-pilot was Mrs. Mary Akins, Wichita, Kan., the mother of three teen-aged children. Mrs. Bera was accompanied on the trip by Margaret A. Head, also of Long Beach.

Third place went to June Douglas, a Palm Beach, Fla., investment broker who led most of the way, but dropped down when she lost time because of bad weather on the last lap between here and Savannah.

Miss Merle Ann Shallow, a 20-year-old co-ed from Bucknell University, won fourth place on a solo jaunt.

Mrs. Noah, despite the fact that she won last year, had been considered out of the running until the final run from Montgomery, Ala., to Chattanooga in jig time. She made the race in a 160-horsepower Piper Cherokee.

Ohio Congressman Raps Voter Literacy Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John J. Gilligan, D-Ohio, speaking in support of the administration's voting rights bill under debate in the House, said Thursday the facts indisputably support charges of discrimination in voting and registration.

"I deem myself a literate citizen," Gilligan said, "but I sincerely doubt that I could answer questions in some literacy tests that have been used in voter registration."

The word "quarantine" comes from the Italian quaranta, or 40. This was the number of days set by Italian authorities in 1374 to detain travelers suspected of having bubonic plague.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

She's Too Uninhibited!

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem and I don't know exactly how to cope with it. It concerns our 11-year-old daughter. She's a very affectionate girl, and quite developed for her age. She is infatuated with a man who happens to be a very good friend of ours. He and his wife are at our home often. At first it was cute to see her run to him throw her arms around his neck, and kiss him fiercely. We teased her about her "dream man," and he played along with the game. But it is no longer funny. If she's not sitting on his lap, she's very close to him. She holds his hand, and kisses him lingeringly on the lips. I notice he's very uncomfortable lately when she is around. My husband says we should ignore it as this is a stage all girls go through while growing up. I never had this problem while I was growing up. Is my husband right? Or should something be done? And if so, how is this done without inhibiting our daughter's natural affectionate nature?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Every normal adolescent girl has a "dream man." And there's no harm in it. But your daughter would be far better off drooling over a picture of Gregory Peck than sitting on your friend's lap. Tell your daughter that she is a young lady now and she must not be so aggressive. To ignore it would indicate approval on your part. And, furthermore, it's the responsibility of parents to see that guests in their home are not subjected to embarrassing situations.

DEAR ABBY: Eldon and I have been married for over a year and it's like pulling teeth to get him to visit my parents with me. When he does go, he just sits there like a bump on a log and doesn't say a word to them. When we get home I tell him if he doesn't talk to my folks they are going to think he is stuck up, or mad at them. He says my father doesn't know anything about sports and my mother doesn't shut up long enough for anyone to get a word in. I think he could be more friendly for my sake. How can I get him to be more sociable with my folks? Or is it just a losing battle?

ELDON'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Leave him alone. Perhaps he still feels a little uncomfortable in their presence. Be glad he goes with you, even if he's no jamboree.

DEAR ABBY: The switchboard operator - receptionist girl here seems to be using her job to make "contacts." If a salesman comes in she gets palsy-walsy with him and before you know it she's got a lunch date or dinner date with him. She's considered an eyeful, if you like the type who overdresses and uses a lot of make-up. She claims she always asks if a man is married before she accepts a date with him, as married men are off her list. (Big deal! She only picks up unmarried strangers.) She's a divorcee and supports two small children so we hate to report her to the office manager because it might cost her her job. What do you suggest?

THE GIRLS
DEAR GIRLS: An "eyeful" who must support two children also has a "headful" to land a job where she can meet men. From here it appears that the girl is only trying to meet men with honorable intentions. I suggest that you girls pull in your claws.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE THREE MUSKETEERS: Every time you sling a little mud, you lose a little ground.

Life Sentence Meted In Cleveland Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Manuel Smith, 28, has been sentenced to life in prison in connection with the January 1962 slaying of one man and the wounding of two others at an East Side bottle club.

Smith won an appeal after being convicted of first-degree murder in August 1962. After 14 days of trial, a county prosecutor accepted Smith's guilty plea Thursday to a reduced charge of second-degree murder.

Rains in New Mexico Ruining Farm Crops

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — More than nine inches of moisture in northern New Mexico have created problems for farmers who usually are choking on dust by July.

J. R. Chavez, Santa Fe County agent, said farmers "have lost 1,455 acres of alfalfa, 2,200 acres of barley, 280 acres of wheat and 110 acres of potatoes," because of the rains.

gram of fall collection previews called the American Designer Series.

Earlier, designer Jacques Tiffeau had set a primitive mood with jungle music and masked mannequins who slinked with cat-like grace in leather and velvet smocks.

Then came the true confessions by Warner's about what really goes on in the underworld of fashion.

Feline misses undulated onto the red carpet in body cinchers, bikini-like underpinnings and tarzan-type, one-shoulder togas — all the cat's meow in tiger stripes.

Their sinuous sisters wore cobra skins, fake patterns of course, on much the same type of intimate apparel.

More ladies, shy and demure, and at first fully clothed in conservative black, stripped to reveal their true colors — wicked red, red lingerie.

Other very personal items introduced at the show included:

—Side-button coat dresses with silk lining to match petticoats and so forth.

—Harlow nighties, bias-cut, ultra short and ruffled.

—Sweater-bras, in nude tone, rounded and slightly padded.

—The short-short slip and the petti-pant for the short-short dresses made popular by Frenchman Andre Courreges.

—The smooth-to-the-hip slip with tiers of ruffles for under the au-go-go dresses.

—Designer Geoffrey Beene

followed up by sending his models onto the runway in the supple, body-clinging kind of garments that require the aforementioned kind of underpinnings.

—Brief jackets topped knife-pleated skirts, long tunic jackets slipped over reed-slim skirts. Throughout the collection were various adaptations of the smocks.

Legal Aide

Decries Racial Disobedience

CHICAGO (AP) — The concept of "righteous civil disobedience" to achieve civil rights or other goals is "incompatible with the American legal system and society," says an American Bar Association official.

Morris I. Leibman, chairman of the organization's Committee on Education Against Communism said in an article published in the current issue of the American Bar Association Journal: "I cannot accept the right to disobey when the law is not static and effective channels for change are constantly available."

The journal is the official journal for the bar association's 120,000 member-lawyers.

A leader in the civil rights movement, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is an advocate of passive civil disobedience. Such demonstrations, King said Wednesday in Chicago, become "a weapon dramatizing the evils of injustice." He was here to confer with leaders of a continuing demonstration protesting alleged de facto racial segregation in the city's public schools.

Leibman, a Chicago lawyer, argued that the concepts of "freedom now" and "righteous civil disobedience" are "semantic traps and only add heat to the problems of freedom and justice for all."

Fresh peaches and plums are having a good growing year and that means bargains for the housewife-shopper.

Wholesalers report that peaches are about 15 per cent cheaper than last season.

A large supermarket chain is pricing peaches at 3 pounds for 29 cents in its New York City outlets.

Fresh plums are selling at about the same prices as last summer on the wholesale markets.

Vegetables are cheaper than they were in late spring. Corn-on-the-cob is in abundant supply and might make a good bargain in many sections. But green beans are rising a bit in price, wholesalers report.

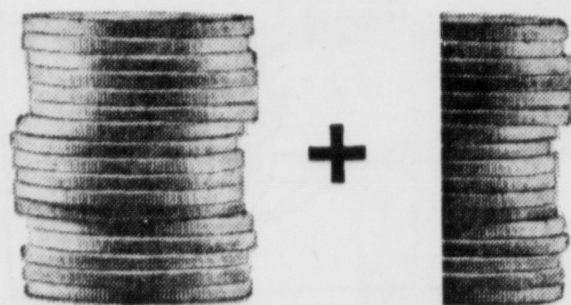

The only bargains in beef and pork this weekend will be among the shoppers' specials, which may vary widely from store to store. Poultry prices are about normal.

Beef and pork prices at wholesale are still at high levels.

Wholesale food prices, as measured by Dun & Bradstreet market researchers, have climbed to a six-year high this summer. Increases for meats were mostly responsible.

This week the indicator price—the total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 foods in general use—was at $6.39. Last year at this time it was $6.06.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, July 9, the 190th day of 1965. There are 175 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1755, Gen. Edward Braddock's British regulars marched, as in dress parade, against the French-held Ft. Duquesne. The British ran into a hail of musketry fire from an enemy they could not even see in the thick forest. The Redcoats retreated, leaving the area of what is now Pittsburgh to the French. Braddock was killed; his only surviving aide was young George Washington.

On this date: In 1778, the ratification of the Articles of Confederation began at Philadelphia.

In 1850, the nation's 12th president, Zachary Taylor, died after 16 months in office.

In 1916, the first merchant submarine to cross the Atlantic and the first in time of war, the German "Deutschland," arrived in Chesapeake Bay from Germany.

In 1944, Japanese resistance ended on Saipan in the Marianas Islands after a battle of nearly a month.

Ten years ago — nine scientists—seven of them Nobel Prize winners—published an appeal to end the use of thermonuclear bombs and to abolish war.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, following a threat by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to retaliate with rockets if the United States intervened in Cuba, warned he never would permit the establishment of a Communist-dominated government in the Western Hemisphere.

One year ago — A United Air Lines Viscount plane crashed near Newport, Tenn., killing all 39 aboard.

"More than one hundred years ago Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith, proclaimed the principle of the oneness of mankind. Among his writings we cite:

"Ye dwell in one world, and have been created through the operation of one Will. Blessed is he who mingled with all men in a spirit of utmost kindness and love."

Vo-Ed Fund Formula Due To Be Presented

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new formula for allocating $7.4 million in federal vocational education funds to Ohio school districts will be presented to the State Board of Education at its meeting next Monday.

State vocational education director Byrl Shoemaker said the new formula was drafted after consideration was given to suggestions made by Cleveland School Supt. Paul Briggs in a letter that split the state board last month.

Briggs criticized department of education philosophy in dividing the federal funds among school districts.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, July 9, the 190th day of 1965. There are 175 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date, in 1755, Gen. Edward Braddock's British regulars marched, as in dress parade, against the French-held Ft. Duquesne. The British ran into a hail of musketry fire from an enemy they could not even see in the thick forest. The Redcoats retreated, leaving the area of what is now Pittsburgh to the French. Braddock was killed; his only surviving aide was young George Washington.

On this date: In 1778, the ratification of the Articles of Confederation began at Philadelphia.

In 1850, the nation's 12th president, Zachary Taylor, died after 16 months in office.

In 1916, the first merchant submarine to cross the Atlantic and the first in time of war, the German "Deutschland," arrived in Chesapeake Bay from Germany.

In 1944, Japanese resistance ended on Saipan in the Marianas Islands after a battle of nearly a month.

Ten years ago — nine scientists—seven of them Nobel Prize winners—published an appeal to end the use of thermonuclear bombs and to abolish war.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, following a threat by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to retaliate with rockets if the United States intervened in Cuba, warned he never would permit the establishment of a Communist-dominated government in the Western Hemisphere.

One year ago — A United Air Lines Viscount plane crashed near Newport, Tenn., killing all 39 aboard.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

"More than one hundred years ago Baha'u'llah, founder of the Baha'i World Faith, proclaimed the principle of the oneness of mankind. Among his writings we cite:

"Ye dwell in one world, and have been created through the operation of one Will. Blessed is he who minglith with all men in a spirit of utmost kindness and love."

Vo-Ed Fund Formula Due To Be Presented

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new formula for allocating $7.4 million in federal vocational education funds to Ohio school districts will be presented to the State Board of Education at its meeting next Monday.

State vocational education director Byrl Shoemaker said the new formula was drafted after consideration was given to suggestions made by Cleveland School Supt. Paul Briggs in a letter that split the state board last month.

Briggs criticized department of education philosophy in dividing the federal funds among school districts.

Seminary Students Revolt Against Dogmatic Views

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "The same challenges of old yardsticks" that brought revolts to college campuses are going on among students for the ministry, says the Rev. Dr. Duk McCall, president of Southern Baptist Seminary.

It hasn't shown in the same ways as on other campuses says Dr. McCall, but seminary students "are no longer willing to swallow dogmatic statements. They no longer come in saying, 'I am a young theologian, teach me what Baptists think'."

The student questions any definite statement a professor makes, he said, because "he looks at the world and says the old answers have not solved all the problems and asks isn't there a better answer."

Dr. McCall, president of the oldest and second largest of six Southern Baptist seminaries said this has forced a revision in the way sources are taught.

Seminary students want to change the world and are impatient with present progress, he said in an interview.

"If I make some small contribution to move the world a little bit closer to the ideal of peace on earth, I will be satisfied," he said. "The student wants to see all armies disbanded in his lifetime. He wants to solve labor-management problems his first Sunday in the pulpit. He is frustrated by differences of vested interest."

Dr. McCall attributed a drop in enrollment at seminaries to the fact that "channels of change are cluttered." Many in the Peace Corps are seminary graduates, he said, and many more will be entering social work with the increase in federal welfare programs.

These may provide the best short term answers, Dr. McCall said, "but in the long term, the answers are religious answers because you change the basic attitudes of a community and this takes a long time, some miracle work and the grace of God."

Students no longer enter the ministry to escape worldly problems, he said. "The civil rights movement has taken care of this. They move to the eye of a hurricane that can tear a community apart."

"They are more likely to ask,

'Is this the place I am most likely to get involved or can I be more effective as a politician or social worker?'

"We thought the church provided the answer. The young theologian is not sure the institutional church is the answer. He is frustrated by the differences in the ideal church and the actual church, between what we preach and what we practice."

Goof Ball Crackdown Law Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to the White House today a bill to crack down on bootleg traffic in goof balls and pep pills.

President Johnson asked for the legislation, saying the growing illicit use of stimulant and depressant drugs was a factor in the trend toward lawlessness in the United States.

The House completed congressional action on the bill with a voice vote.

The bill provides increased federal controls over the distribution of barbiturates, amphetamines and other drugs.

Congress was told by witnesses from the Food and Drug Administration that tougher controls were needed because 4.5 billion doses a year — or more than half the annual production of barbiturates and amphetamines — were slipping into underworld channels.

Johnson, in a message to Congress in March, said indiscriminate use of these drugs induced radical personality changes and thus caused "senseless killing, robberies and auto accident."

The tougher controls are accomplished through increased record keeping and inspection requirements, by providing for control over interstate — as well as interstate — traffic in the drugs and by making possession of the drugs, other than by the user, illegal outside of the legitimate channels of commerce.

Our Continuing Response

THE DIFFERENCE KNOWLEDGE OF CHRIST AND OBEDIENCE TO HIM MAKES IN OUR LIVES

Scripture—Philippians 3:7-16; Romans 8:26-28.

By R. H. RAMSEY
LAST WEEK we saw that foundation of Christian growth is initiated by man's response to Jesus Christ, and in Christ becomes spiritually reborn, a new creature.
Today we shall see how man's continued growth means pressing on to the point where he submits his life utterly to the will of Christ and strives to emulate His example. This continued response to Christ is seen clearly in Paul's epistle to the Philippians, which examines some of the most profound experiences in the Apostle's life.
Prior to the opening verse of today's Scriptural material, Paul wrote of his own life. He remembered how he had been born into Judaism, "a Hebrew of the Hebrews" and not of mixed stock, with every advantage. He was a member of the very select tribe of Benjamin, which had given Israel its first king (Saul). His religious background meant a great deal to him, and his Jewish brethren held him in high regard. Yet his experience on the Damascus road brought him to the point where he realized he had his back to God.
For him conversion had

"I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."—Philippians 3:14.

meant a right-about-face, and what he had formerly counted as important he now called "refuse." All that this devout man possessed in the way of natural and acquired endowment was nothing compared to what he received when Christ laid hold on him.

How often we boast of things we possess and pride ourselves on our heritage, our education, our environment. As Paul's example shows, there are riches far greater than these, and we would do well to concentrate on those spiritual gifts which money and position can neither buy nor obtain.

Paul turned from what he was, great as it was, to what he had become through the power of Christ in his life. He was well aware of the rewards of his present fellowship with Christ, and he was certain of his future deliverance.

As Paul found, Christianity offers a new way of salvation, and above the righteousness of obedience to the law there is a righteousness from God through faith. Through our faith we, like Paul, become seized with an ambition to "know Him," to grow through knowledge of Christ. To know Christ is to love and to serve.

In the face of the general moral weakness of mankind, Christians are forced to seek God's assistance. Not knowing what to pray for, or even how to pray effectively, we are forced back upon the Spirit. Our prayers are weak and ineffective until we realize we are not alone. The Holy Spirit comes to our aid, and then we pray with great power.

God understands man's plight because of the working of the Holy Spirit within him, which searches the human heart and works to direct our prayers into conformity with the perfect will of God. This is our assurance of salvation.

Paul gives us a further glimpse into the eternal pattern in his assurance that in everything God works with us for good, but only to those who love God and are called according to His purpose. Everything is against the worldly man who deliberately continues without Christ—God's character, God's law, God's holiness, God's judgment. But to those who love God and seek to conform to His purpose and pattern, everything will work harmoniously for good as the result of God's marvelous providence.

Our Continuing Response

THE DIFFERENCE KNOWLEDGE OF CHRIST AND OBEDIENCE TO HIM MAKES IN OUR LIVES

Scripture—Philippians 3:7-16; Romans 8:26-28.

By R. H. RAMSEY
LAST WEEK we saw that foundation of Christian growth is initiated by man's response to Jesus Christ, and in Christ becomes spiritually reborn, a new creature.

Today we shall see how man's continued growth means pressing on to the point where he submits his life utterly to the will of Christ and strives to emulate His example. This continued response to Christ is seen clearly in Paul's epistle to the Philippians, which examines some of the most profound experiences in the Apostle's life.

Prior to the opening verse of today's Scriptural material, Paul wrote of his own life. He remembered how he had been born into Judaism, "a Hebrew of the Hebrews" and not of mixed stock, with every advantage. He was a member of the very select tribe of Benjamin, which had given Israel its first king (Saul). His religious background meant a great deal to him, and his Jewish brethren held him in high regard. Yet his experience on the Damascus road brought him to the point where he realized he had his back to God. For him conversion had

Him, and when we do this, He imparts Himself to us until we become more and more Christ-like and our lives are identified with His.

Recognizing that the Christian experiences involve struggle and further attainment, Paul stressed his own lack of having attained a state of complete perfection. He knew this still lay before him and, likening his situation to a race being run toward this goal, he emphasized his determination to press on until he wins his prize, "the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Likewise, the Christian must strive for a more perfect spiritual life in order to be a true and worthy servant of his Lord. In so doing, the Christian gains a far better understanding of what God requires of him.

Our lesson now shifts to Paul's letter to the Roman, chapter 8, verses 26 to 28. Here his words are exceedingly rich and profound. In preceding verses he had been speaking of the fact that the whole creation groans and travaileth in pain together, waiting, hoping, desiring to possess the Spirit. As we are saved by hope, so also does the Spirit help us in our weakness.

How often we boast of things we possess and pride ourselves on our heritage, our education, our environment. As Paul's example shows, there are riches far greater than these, and we would do well to concentrate on those spiritual gifts which money and position can neither buy nor obtain.

Ohio Is Seen First To OK Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio, "The Mother of Presidents" — including the assassinated William McKinley — is close to becoming the first state to decide whether an acting president should replace a disabled chief executive.

Just one day after Congress gave final approval, the Ohio House overwhelmingly endorsed a proposal to install the vice president as acting president if the president is too sick or injured to do his job.

The proposal — which would become the 25th amendment to the U. S. Constitution if finally approved by 38 states — is designed to avoid the kind of laps in presidential command that occurred when McKinley was shot in Buffalo, N. Y. in 1901.

McKinley — one of the eight presidents Ohio sent to the White House — lingered for 10 days after anarchist Leon F. Czolgosz pumped two bullets into him from a pistol concealed in a handkerchief.

McKinley was on a speaking tour in Buffalo.

Vice President Theodore Roosevelt, on a vacation trip in the Adirondacks, didn't arrive in Buffalo until after McKinley died and was then sworn in as president.

While there were no dire consequences in 1901, federal officials fear a similar occurrence in the nuclear age could be disastrous.

"We have neither perfected the provisions for orderly continuity in the executive direction of our system nor, as yet, paid the price our continuing inaction so clearly invites and so recklessly risks," said President Johnson last January in proposing a constitutional amendment.

Although the Ohio House acted quickly with a 119-7 vote of approval Wednesday, the proposed amendment appeared headed for a hearing in the state Senate before final action, which is not expected before next week.

The proposed amendment provides that the vice president would become acting chief executive if the president advises Congress he is unable to discharge his duties.

When the president sent word to Congress that he was able to resume his powers of office, the vice president would step down again.

If a president refused or was too ill to declare himself disabled, a majority of the cabinet or such other body as Congress might later set up could send a written declaration to Congress that the president was disabled. The vice president would then become acting president.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sudden rash of stories in the New York press this week raised some rough, critical questions about President Johnson and Thursday he named a new press secretary.

There was not necessarily any connection between the two events. Johnson picked Bill D. Moyers' 31, as press secretary to succeed George E. Reedy, 48, who gave foot trouble as his reason for leaving.

Although both men had worked for Johnson for years, there is quite a difference between them.

Moyers, very bright and personable, is Johnson's top aide and one of his closest friends and advisers. The slow-talking, friendly Reedy never had that close relationship with the President.

This was what was most unusual about the change: While Reedy had long experience as a newsman before going to work for Johnson, Moyers had no real news experience outside his college days.

And, besides, he had a very important White House job preparing programs for Johnson to submit to Congress.

Last Sunday in the New York Herald-Tribune Douglas Kiker reporter that "more and more" stories are filtering out of the White House about Johnson's personality and his relations with others from aides to members of Congress and government officials.

After listing a number of critical questions about the President, Kiker said: "The White House is tremendously concerned about this growing image." And, as an indication that Johnson is trying to do something about it, Kiker said:

"There have been meetings and talks and decisions made all week long (meaning last week) concerning new public approaches." This was written five days before Moyers' appointment.

Kiker said of Johnson: "His charm is overwhelming frontier charm, and so are his veneers. He demands his staff; then imposes great trust and confidence in it. The prospects are that a more subtle, gloved hand will be offered by the White House in the time immediately ahead."

Tom Wicker in the New York Times of July 7 reported that Washington "has only one real topic of conversation — the man in the White House. The news out of Washington these days is that Mr. Johnson is irascible, moody, high-handed, peeved at his critics, and generally hard to live with."

And Alan L. Otten in the Wall Street Journal of July 6 said "while the President apparently retains overwhelming popular support across the nation, a small but influential group of people who see him up close are increasingly uneasy, unhappy, and uncharitable about him" on several points:

"That the President drives people too hard, is too high-handed and arrogant, doesn't really want argument and independent point of view; that he is too preoccupied with his popular image, is too sensitive to criticism, spends too much time answering attacks he should ignore; that when things go truly wrong, he frequently turns nasty. The President often seems to lack respect for the individual.

As soon as an official indicates he is quitting the Johnson team, Otten said, "the President is likely to tell callers that so - and - so was 'really terribly overrated.'"

These three stories came after two other events that caused a lot of comment in Washington. On June 28 Jack Valenti, Johnson's special assistant, made a speech, saying of his boss:

"He is a sensitive man, a cultivated man, a warm-hearted and extra - ordinary man. I sleep each night a little better, a little more confidently because Lyndon Johnson is my President."

Two days later the Washington Post's Heblock, quoting those words from Valenti in a cartoon titled "Happy Days on the Old Plantation," drew three cringing men, stripped to the waist and with whip marks on their backs, bowing to a man disappearing off to the side with a bullwhip. In the back was the White House.

All over Washington that day people asked: "Did you see the Heblock cartoon?"

Cosmic Rays Aid Probe Of Pyramid

CAIRO (AP)—By means of cosmic rays scientists hope to find out if the Cheops pyramid contains passages or chambers not yet discovered by archeologists.

Prof. Fathi Bedewi of Ein-Shams University is collaborating by mail with Dr. Luis W. Alvarez of California's Lawrence Radiation Laboratory to set up electronic instruments inside the pyramid that is 481 feet high.

The project is designed to measure cosmic rays falling on the huge structure, said Bedewi, and "by simple computation we will be able to determine whether the pyramid contains any cavities or passages not known to us."

Cosmic rays, Bedewi said, are strong enough to penetrate the limestone blocks of the pyramid, and computing machines measuring the rays will reveal its structure.

"We may not find anything, but at last we will make it definite that the pyramid contains no more than is already known," he said. "Or we may discover the original entrance of the great monument."

Two chambers — the burial rooms of Cheops and his queen — are known, and some archeologists believe there may be others inside the pyramid.

Acceptance Expected For Vo-Ed Formula

Another formula proposed earlier by the department was criticized sharply by Cleveland School Supt. Paul Briggs and caused a split in the State Board of Education at its meeting last month.

A new motorcycle organization was formed before the beginning of the season known as the Sportsman Hillclimbers Inc., and represents the hill climbers from Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

All riders are participating in a point system and have been assigned their numbers for the 1965 year. The high point winner will be awarded No. 1 for the next season. The points are gained by, top time and first place, 4 points; second place, 3 points; third place, 2 points; all other positions, 1 point.

Earl Bowlby of Logan and Tim Byers of Lancaster are high point riders at present time. The next twenty riders are close behind in their points and at each hill climb they change places with points.

Hill climbs have been held so far this year at Lancaster, Chillicothe, Athens, Marietta, Salem and Youngstown, in Ohio. Also in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Maryland.

The riders are to have a hill climbers weekend by having a climb 7 p. m. July 10 on the Hyde Park Hill at Newark. Then again 2 p. m. July 11, at Lancaster Hill.

K of C Team, Bowlers Win Loop Tilts

K of C pounded Block's Shoes, 28-4, last night in the Mosquito League. In other loop action, tight hurling enabled Prairie Lanes to stop Archer's, 5-3.

K of C never stopped hitting as they collected 18 hits in 49 trips to the plate. The winners held Block's to three bingles in facing only 28 batters.

Phillip Roll started for the Knights. He was helped by Mike Diltz, Brian Herron and Brian Barthelmas. Giffen suffered the loss for Block's.

Jesse Jenkins hurled a perfect game for Prairie Lanes. In six frames he walked two, fanned 16 and allowed no hits.

MARK HOFFMAN hurled for Archer's. He went six innings in walking three, fanning 14 and allowing only four hits.

Randy Brooks led the Lanes' attack as he biffed a three-bagger and a double. Brooks and Tim Wagner stole three bases each.

IL Pennant Race Looks Wide Open

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The International League pennant race, which once looked like an Atlanta runaway, has become wide open.

After Thursday's Games, fourth place Jacksonville had moved to within 5½ games of league-leading Columbus and the possibility of a battle royal for first place emerged.

Toledo topped Columbus 7-3, Jacksonville whipped Atlanta 5-3, Rochester edged Syracuse 4-3 and Toronto defeated hapless Buffalo 2-0 and 8-1 in a doubleheader.

Toledo exploded for six runs in the third inning against Columbus. The Mud Hens scored all six runs after two were out.

Paul Blair, rookie outfielder with the Baltimore Orioles, stole 34 bases in 45 attempts with Elmira in the Eastern League in 1964.

Palmer Frets; Foes Worry

Fabled Charge Hinted in Offing

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer was fussing and fretting going into the last two rounds of the British Open Golf Championship today and that, laddie boy, is bad news for the leaders.

"My game is confused — it's sputtering. I can't get together," the Latrobe, Pa., master fumed.

But that's just the sort of attitude that often has prompted one of Palmer's fabled charges. And when he's just one stroke back with 36 holes to go, leaders Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin have to be worried.

The question is an old one. It's a matter of whether Palmer still has the drive to put together one of his charges, whether he's so satiated with victory that the desire is no longer there.

Golf has made him a millionaire — but he hasn't won in more than a year and he's fretting like a rookie after Thursday's second round when he shot a 71 for a share of second at 141, one stroke back of Lema and Devlin.

Brian Huggett of Wales was with him at 141. Five others were at 142, one at 143, and at 144 was Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, who needs only to explode one of his great rounds to close the gap.

Still it was Palmer who was intriguing the knowledgeable Royal Birkdale golf crowd which saw him capture the title with 284 in bad weather conditions four years ago.

The thousands thronging the 7,037-yard par-73 links on the shores of the Irish Sea have made up Arnie's current Army. He's given them a good show as usual, never too much on the fairway to make the round possible, always scrambling out of trouble.

Speedy Scot Is Eyed in Lush Trot

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) The seventh $100,000 International Trot will be raced Saturday night over 1¼ miles at Roosevelt Raceway. That's for sure. But whether there'll be a record performance depends on Speedy Scot, the American representative, defending champion and 1-5 favorite.

A poll today of the drivers of the seven other starters from six nations fail to disclose a single one willing to admit his horse has enough speed to take the track away from the Castleton Farm's 5-year-old son of Speedster.

Ralph Baldwin drove Speedy Scot to victory in 2:32 3-5 last year in matching Su Mac Lad's stake record. The swift Speedy also holds the world record of 2:31 2-5. He has won 43 of his 54 starts and each of 11 defeats can be traced to the colt's failure to keep on stride. His bank account totals $633,409.

The consensus was that if Speedy Scot stays on the trot all the way, there'll be no stopping him from picking up the winning share of $50,000.

Hill Climb Organization Is Formed

A new motorcycle organization was formed before the beginning of the season known as the Sportsman Hillclimbers Inc., and represents the hill climbers from Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

All riders are participating in a point system and have been assigned their numbers for the 1965 year. The high point winner will be awarded No. 1 for the next season. The points are gained by, top time and first place, 4 points; second place, 3 points; third place, 2 points; all other positions, 1 point.

Earl Bowlby of Logan and Tim Byers of Lancaster are high point riders at present time. The next twenty riders are close behind in their points and at each hill climb they change places with points.

Hill climbs have been held so far this year at Lancaster, Chillicothe, Athens, Marietta, Salem and Youngstown, in Ohio. Also in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and Maryland.

The riders are to have a hill climbers weekend by having a climb 7 p. m. July 10 on the Hyde Park Hill at Newark. Then again 2 p. m. July 11, at Lancaster Hill.

K of C Team, Bowlers Win Loop Tilts

K of C pounded Block's Shoes, 28-4, last night in the Mosquito League. In other loop action, tight hurling enabled Prairie Lanes to stop Archer's, 5-3.

K of C never stopped hitting as they collected 18 hits in 49 trips to the plate. The winners held Block's to three bingles in facing only 28 batters.

Phillip Roll started for the Knights. He was helped by Mike Diltz, Brian Herron and Brian Barthelmas. Giffen suffered the loss for Block's.

Jesse Jenkins hurled a perfect game for Prairie Lanes. In six frames he walked two, fanned six and allowed no hits.

MARK HOFFMAN hurled for Archer's. He went six innings in walking three, fanning 14 and allowing only four hits.

Randy Brooks led the Lanes' attack as he biffed a three-bagger and a double. Brooks and Tim Wagner stole three bases each.

IL Pennant Race Looks Wide Open

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The International League pennant race, which once looked like an Atlanta runaway, has become wide open.

After Thursday's Games, fourth place Jacksonville had moved to within 5½ games of league-leading Columbus and the possibility of a battle royal for first place emerged.

Toledo topped Columbus 7-3, Jacksonville whipped Atlanta 5-3, Rochester edged Syracuse 4-3 and Toronto defeated hapless Buffalo 2-0 and 8-1 in a doubleheader.

Toledo exploded for six runs in the third inning against Columbus. The Mud Hens scored all six runs after two were out.

Paul Blair, rookie outfielder with the Baltimore Orioles, stole 34 bases in 45 attempts with Elmira in the Eastern League in 1964.

Palmer Frets; Foes Worry

Fabled Charge Hinted in Offing

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Arnold Palmer was fussing and fretting going into the last two rounds of the British Open Golf Championship today and that, laddie boy, is bad news for the leaders.

"My game is confused — it's sputtering. I can't get together," the Latrobe, Pa., master fumed.

But that's just the sort of attitude that often has prompted one of Palmer's fabled charges. And when he's just one stroke back with 36 holes to go, leaders Tony Lema and Bruce Devlin have to be worried.

The question is an old one. It's a matter of whether Palmer still has the drive to put together one of his charges, whether he's so satiated with victory that the desire is no longer there.

Golf has made him a millionaire — but he hasn't won in more than a year and he's fretting like a rookie after Thursday's second round when he shot a 71 for a share of second at 141, one stroke back of Lema and Devlin.

Brian Huggett of Wales was with him at 141. Five others were at 142, one at 143, and at 144 was Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, who needs only to explode one of his great rounds to close the gap.

Still it was Palmer who was intriguing the knowledgeable Royal Birkdale golf crowd which saw him capture the title with 284 in bad weather conditions four years ago.

The thousands thronging the 7,037-yard par-73 links on the shores of the Irish Sea have made up Arnie's current Army. He's given them a good show as usual, never too much on the fairway to make the round prosaic, always scrambling out of trouble.

Speedy Scot Is Eyed in Lush Trot

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) The seventh $100,000 International Trot will be raced Saturday night over 1¼ miles at Roosevelt Raceway. That's for sure. But whether there'll be a record performance depends on Speedy Scot, the American representative, defending champion and 1-5 favorite.

A poll today of the drivers of the seven other starters from six nations fail to disclose a single one willing to admit his horse has enough speed to take the track away from the Castleton Farm's 5-year-old son of Speedster.

Ralph Baldwin drove Speedy Scot to victory in 2:32 3/5 last year in matching Su Mac Lad's stake record. The swift Speedy also holds the world record of 2:31 2/5. He has won 43 of his 54 starts and each of 11 defeats can be traced to the colt's failure to keep on stride. His bank account totals $633,409.

The consensus was that if Speedy Scot stays on the trot all the way, there'll be no stopping him from picking up the winning share of $50,000.

Paul Blair, rookie outfielder with the Baltimore Orioles, stole 34 bases in 45 attempts with Elmira in the Eastern League in 1964.

MARK HOFFMAN hurled for Archer's. He went six innings in walking three, fanning 14 and allowing only four hits.

COLUMBUS — Bret Hanover, richest, fastest harness horse of 1965, will meet the sternest test of his fabulous career tonight at Scioto Downs in the $10,000 Challenge Stakes for three-year-old pacers. Eleven other pacers will line up behind the gate to vie for the silver trophy.

Trained and driven by the veteran Frank Ervin, he won 24 races in 24 strts last year, became the richest two-year-old harness horse of all time with earnings of $178,298. Purchased by Richard Downing of Shaker Heights for $50,000 at the Harrisburg Sale, Bret Hanover became the first two-year-old to be named the "Horse of the Year" in 1964.
Bret's his two-year-old career came to an end, he had paced a half-mile track in 2:00.4 at Saratoga Raceway, won in 1:57.2 at Vernon Downs. He won in Illinois in 1:58.2 then came right back to win in Indianapolis in straight heats of 1:58.4 and 1:58.
When the 1965 racing season began, Bret Hanover was the horse to beat in the three-year-old pacing ranks.
He pulled in behind the starting gate for the first time in 1965 at Yonkers Raceway and won in 2:02.1 on May 3. On May 12, Bret Hanover won the $125,236 Cane Futurity in 2:01. One Slightly Hurt in Crash

A passenger was slightly injured when two cars collided 4:11 p.m. yesterday at N. Court St. and Seyfert Ave.

Rebecca Woodruff, 57, Route 1, Laurelville, was referred to a physician after she complained of a back injury. She was a passenger in a car driven by John R. Woodruff, 69.

The other vehicle was driven by Walter E. Gray, 37, of 724 Renick Ave. Police said he was cited for failure to have assured clear distance ahead.

According to Patrolman Dixie Watters, the Woodruff car had stopped for a traffic light on Court St. and was struck in the rear by Gray's auto. He said both vehicles suffered moderate damage.

Geologists believe there were at least four major ice advances in North America.

Ohio Senate To Vote on Pay Boosts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of the Ohio Senate have scheduled for Monday afternoon a vote on House-approved pay raises for an estimated 39,000 state employees.

The bulk of the increases, which will cost about $20 million a year when fully implemented, will go to the state's lower paid workers, or those earning $200-$600 a month.

The pay raise bill is one of the last major items standing in the way of final adjournment of the legislature, which ended its 25th work week today. By far the biggest obstacle, however, is agreement on a school foundation program now languishing in a House subcommittee.

Other major bills pending include "fair housing" and a proposal to extend school bus transportation to private and parochial school pupils. Both have been approved by the Senate and are pending in House committees.

The administration's industrial financing program got a boost Thursday as the House passed bills setting up the necessary machinery. Under the program, the state could grant loans up to 50 per cent for construction and expansion of industry.

Voters approved a constitutional change in the May 4 primary to permit the state to grant loans to private companies.

House members gave their approval to a bill softening penalties for auto theft and driving without an owner's consent after being told present penalties are harsh, unrealistic, and they often prompt judges to grant probation.

Auto theft would be reduced from 1-20 years to 1-7 years for the first offense and from 5-30 to 1-7 for subsequent offenses.

For driving without consent, the bill carried a maximum fine of $500 and six months in jail year term.

The Senate postponed a vote on a measure requiring mandatory license suspension for youthful drivers convicted of auto theft, drag racing, and theft of auto parts.

The measure was returned to committee where opponents will seek revisions.

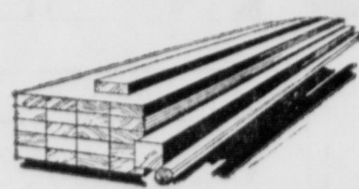

The Senate killed a measure to permit the registrar of motor vehicles to notify traffic violators of department actions by regular instead of certified mail.

New life was breathed into a once-defeated measure to create municipal courts in Fremont, Mason, and Vermilion, and to expand jurisdiction of several others.

On a motion by Sen. David T. Matia, D-Cuyahoga, the Senate agreed to reconsider the vote that sent it to defeat following a floor fight over amendments two days ago. The Senate has until Monday to bring the bill up again.

Teaching Staff Near Completion

The Circleville Board of Education last night spent much of its monthly meeting time in completing teaching and cafeteria staffs.

Fritz Jacobs said all teaching vacancies have been filled for '66 all term with the exception of a speech and hearing therapist. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Robert Wellington who has accepted a position with Owens-Illinois. According to the board report, Wellington is being sent to school in Kansas City by the firm before placement.

Other teachers resigning include Mrs. Betsy Swepston, high school mathematics teacher, and Mrs. Pearl Porter, an elementary teacher.

Seven teachers employed during last night's session were Miss Linda Graves, Chillicothe, for an elementary position. She is a graduate of Ohio University with a BS in education. Mrs. Nancy Milam, Canton, was hired to teach French and history in the high school. She is a graduate of Ohio State University with a BS in education.

MRS. Donna Lee Connor, Circleville, was hired for an elementary position. She has five years experience and is a Capital University grad.

Mrs. Phyllis Martin, a graduate of Morris Harvey College in W. Virginia, was named to an elementary position. Mrs. Mary F. Garrett, a Murray State College grad, will teach high school math.

Miss Angela Helm, Sciotoville, a graduate of Ohio Northern University will teach in an elementary school.

Mrs. Virginia Flowers, Circleville, will hold an elementary position. She is the wife of the new First EUB minister.

New cafeteria workers employed include Mrs. Maxine Allison at the high school and Mrs. Ted Sims at Mound St. Mrs. Margaret Moore has been transferred from CHS to the Mound St. building. Jacobs noted that there are still three cafeteria positions open — one at CHS, one at Mound St. and one at Court St.

In other official action the board re-employed Mrs. Mary M. Yates as attendance officer for the 1965-66 term and Miss Donna Crable as high school secretary.

A contract with the Circleville Board of Health for nursing services was renewed for another year and purchase orders were approved for janitorial supplies at the High St. building.

EASEMENT rights requested by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were approved for erecting utility poles for service to the new high school.

Three new text books were adopted and supplies were ordered for several elementary buildings. New texts were in industrial arts areas.

Guard Unit Sets New Drill Date

The local Ohio National Guard unit's drill period for this weekend has been cancelled, according to Guard officials here.

M-Sgt. Chester Iery said regular weekend drill will be conducted July 17-18. He said the change in schedule was caused by rioting at Indian Lake last week when the Circleville and other units were called out to help restore order.

Sgt. Iery also noted several openings are now available in the Circleville unit. He said it is one of the few Guard outfits able to accept new enlistments at this time.

Eligible men interested may contact Sgt. Iery at the Armory on E. Franklin St.
